

CARNEGIE, 69, GIVES
BALTIMORE $500,000To Celebrate Birthday by Endowing More Libraries.

BRANCHES TO COVER CITY

Money Will Be Used to Extend Enoch Pratt Institution.Iron Millionaire First Conceived the Idea of Disseminating Wealth
When Attending Its Opening with Founder, Who Was His Life-long
Friend—Scot as Hale and Active as He Was Ten Years Ago.

Baltimore, Nov. 24.—Andrew Carnegie will celebrate to-morrow his sixty-ninth birthday by making the preliminary arrangements for presenting this city $500,000 for free public libraries.

The Pittsburgh iron millionaire notified Mayor E. Clay Timanus and former Postmaster General James A. Gary, president of the Enoch Pratt Library, that he plans this munificent gift in memory of his old friend, founder of that institution, who died ten years ago.

The money will be used to enlarge and extend the Pratt Library. Branches will be built throughout the city and in the suburbs.

Carnegie and Pratt were life-long friends, and with President Harrison attended the opening of the Carnegie Library in Pittsburgh. It was at the dedication of the Pratt Library here that the Baltimore banker and merchant had endowed with $1,000,000 that the ironmaster first conceived the idea of trying to dispose of his immense wealth by establishing free public libraries.

Baltimore had received a lion's share of the steel millionaire's recent presents. A few months ago he gave the Maryland Institute School of Art and Design $250,000.

Has Given Away $142,158,520.

The Carnegie gifts to all sources, that turned the $100,000,000 mark in 1904, now total at $142,158,520, of which sum $40,468,520 is to be credited to library buildings.

In the United States $29,807,580 has been given to provide 720 libraries in 620 cities and towns, supplying 18.7 per cent of the population.

Arkansas, Delaware, Rhode Island, Mississippi, and Alaska have received none of these gifts.

Out of the United States the Carnegie library gifts amount to $10,900,540, supplying 500 libraries in 427 centers. The British Islands, Canada, and the West Indies, New Zealand, and Tasmania are included.

The smallest Carnegie library in the world is on the historic island of Iona, off the coast of Scotland. It is less than fifteen feet square, is on a spot often swept, and is built of granite, with two-foot walls. It is used wholly by fishermen.

Other Gifts Than Libraries.

Mr. Carnegie's principal gifts other than to libraries are as follows:

To the Scotch universities.....	$15,000,000
Carnegie Institution, Pittsburgh.....	10,000,000
Carnegie Institution, Washington.....	10,000,000
Pension fund for aged teachers.....	10,000,000
The hero fund.....	5,000,000
Pension fund for aged teachers.....	5,000,000
The Dufferin fund.....	2,500,000
The peace temple at The Hague.....	1,750,000
Allied Engineers' Society.....	1,500,000

To "small colleges" some $17,000,000 has been given, $6,000,000 of it since 1900.

The gifts for miscellaneous purposes (swimming baths, organs, &c.) are estimated at $21,000,000.

Mr. Carnegie has reached the age of sixty-nine, an active, healthful man. He is slender, "pony-built," bright-eyed, with gray hair and beard, looking not more than sixty years old.

He is the precise antithesis of the conventional moneyed man, neither harassed nor spoiled. A boy of fifteen, with a quarter in his pocket and a fishing rod in his hand, could not be more free from care.

He is keen and jolly, "chuck full" of life, and marked by a fresh buoyancy both of heart and disposition. He is happy because, at bottom, he is profoundly simple. Fishing and golf are his hobbies. There is a private golf course on the Skibo estate, and elaborate salmon and trout hatcheries.

Billiards he plays occasionally; whist less often. For indoor amusement he prefers his books.

He is fond of countryside walking and seldom rides. He has never followed the hounds, and leaves shooting wholly to his guests. On the other hand, his yacht is always in commission during the Scotch season.

Potters About Garden.

He loves to potter about his garden, planting here, diverting a stream, there making a new road, or mending an old one.

Of music he cannot have enough. At 8 o'clock each morning (at Skibo) a playing pipe marches around the castle, and, in the evening, plays through the dinner hour, being followed later by an organist. Guests who have risen to the wild skirling of the pipes retire to a salutory from a nighty organ.

The two things he most heartily dislikes are motoring and tobacco.

He would rather be honored as a philosopher than as a philanthropist. He has read widely, and traveled with the eyes of a student of affairs. He likes to "look down the law" on all things—holding forth in a pithy, picturesque style, with closed eyes and wagging forefinger. He is often intolerant, almost always dogmatic, and invariably speaks in an authoritative tone of finality, which invites argument.

SHAW MAY BE IN RACE

Now Believed Secretary Will Turn Tariff Revisionist.

SEEKS IOWA'S INDORESEMENT

Declared to Be of the Opinion that Currency Reform Will Figure in Presidential Contest—Said to Have Refused Position at $50,000 a Year in New York to Enter Canvass.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 24.—Upon his retirement from the Cabinet within a few weeks, Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury, it is said here, will return to Iowa to open his campaign as a candidate for the Presidency.

For the purpose of catching the tariff revisionists of Iowa, Secretary Shaw, it is believed, has given definite promise of tariff revision. According to rumors, as an active candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1908 he will make the tariff-revision question one of his most important issues.

Advocates Currency Reform.

Currency reform is to be another feature of the Secretary's campaign. He is of the opinion that currency reform is to become one of the great issues of the future, and as a great many people favor the idea, he has taken it up to assist in accomplishing his political ambition.

Revision of the present currency laws was recently endorsed by a commission of the American Bankers' Association which met at Washington, D. C., for the purpose.

According to Mr. Shaw's friends, his platform will stand for anti-primary legislation in this State. This is believed by the well-posted politicians here to be for the purpose of catching the Republicans of the State who are opposed to Gov. Cummins' primary legislation campaign.

Will Open in Iowa.

It is understood that Secretary Shaw's campaign for President will begin in Iowa almost immediately after his retirement from the Cabinet.

Mr. Shaw recently confided to some of those close to him that he had not long been offered a position at the head of a New York financial institution at a salary of $50,000 a year. His Presidential ambitions precluded his consideration of the generous offer, and he declined it after thoroughly deliberating over the matter.

DIES FOR LOVE OF MATRON.

Singer Shoots Himself When New York Woman Reveals Facts.

London, Nov. 24.—The Berlin correspondent of the London Express says that Johann Muehlhausen, a young German singer, committed suicide Wednesday morning because an American woman to whom he was deeply attached left him to return to New York.

Muehlhausen made his debut in Hamburg three weeks ago, and met great success. After the performance he was introduced to a lady posing as "Miss Newth, of New York." He fell in love with her at once, and she appeared to return his affection.

Next day Muehlhausen received a letter from her, in which she said that she was Mrs. Carson, wife of a New York broker, and mother of two children, to whom she was on the point of returning. She enclosed a check for $5,000. Muehlhausen returned the check to the bank and then shot himself in the head.

PEARRE MAY OPPOSE BOYD.

Congressman Said to Have Eye on Fourth Circuit Judgeship.

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 24.—It is reported here that Congressman George A. Pearre has aspirations for the office of chief judge of the Fourth judicial circuit of Maryland, the place now filled by Hon. Andrew Hunter Boyd.

Judge Boyd is a Democrat, and his successor will be selected in 1908. The circuit is composed of Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties, all of which are generally Republican, and which Col. Pearre carried on November 6 last by over 3,000 plurality.

Chief Judge Boyd will no doubt be re-nominated by the Democrats. He is very popular, which was shown when he won against Benjamin A. Richmond, Esq., the leader of the local bar, in a Republican district.

EIGHT HURT IN AUTO RACE

Car Skids and Crashes Into Machines
Along the Course.Going at Rate of Fifty Miles an Hour at Point Breeze Track When the Accident Happens.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24.—Eight men were injured, two perhaps fatally, when a big Apperson car, running in the fifty-mile open race, at Point Breeze, this afternoon, crashed through the railing on the home stretch, plunged into a score of automobiles, and mowed down a crowd of spectators.

One of the victims may also succumb to the injuries he received. The accident created the most intense excitement, and for some time it was impossible to ascertain the full extent of the mishap.

Patrol wagons and ambulances were quickly summoned, and several doctors who were present rendered what aid they could to all of the suffering men.

The following were taken to the Methodist Hospital:
Frank E. Hugg, double fracture of right leg. Condition serious.
James Smith, contusion of right shoulder.

David Budd, contusion of legs.
J. F. Halmann, whose foot was badly mangled. St. Agnes' Hospital.

Three victims at the Philadelphia Hospital are said to be seriously hurt.

Prior to the accident the Apperson car had won two races, and in the 50-mile race was well in the lead, going at the rate of fifty miles an hour. The sixth lap had been covered when the front wheels skidded and the machine swerved to the right, leaped over a ditch, hurled through a railing, and fairly hurled itself upon a group of automobiles crowded with spectators. Kirk, the driver, and his machinist were hurled high into the air. Kirk was only slightly injured.

CHASING EX-CHIEF OF POLICE.

Cuban Rurales After Former Officer in Cienfuegos.

Cienfuegos, the worst hotbed of trouble in Cuba, has brought forth more disturbances, and last night a band of rurales were chasing Senor Rius, formerly chief of police, who has gathered ten or fifteen of his friends and departed from the city. Governor Magoon reported the trouble in a dispatch to Secretary Taft, received late yesterday afternoon. The text follows:

"Information received that Rius, Modarate, lately removed from chief of police, Cienfuegos, has left town with ten to fifteen men, pursued by rural guards with sufficient force. Guzman and other Liberal leaders tendered services to capture the band. Tender declined. No special importance attached to incident."

VANDERBILT WINS 12

Moore Close Second at Horse
Show with Eleven Blues.

B. W. HARRIMAN COMES THIRD

C. W. Watson, of Baltimore, Takes Five Firsts—New York's Twenty-second Annual Event Closes with Brilliant Display—Mrs. Julian Morris Among the Highest Rank.

New York, Nov. 24.—The twenty-second annual event of the National Horse Show Association was brought to a brilliant conclusion to-night at Madison Square Garden.

The attendance was the greatest in recent years, and equaled the record made in 1890.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt carried off the honors with twelve blue ribbons, the next best winner being Judge William H. Moore, formerly of Chicago, but now of this city, who had eleven first prizes to his credit.

While Vanderbilt won more blues than his closest competitor, the ex-Chicago man gained more ribbons from points.

Next in the order of merit came B. W. Harriman, also of this city, with seven firsts, six seconds, one third, and two commendation prizes. Eben D. Jordan, of Plymouth, Mass., ranked next, with six firsts and three seconds, and C. W. Watson, of Baltimore, had five firsts, five seconds, four thirds, and three highly commended ribbons.

Mrs. Julian Morris, of the Oaks Stock Farm, Keswick, Va., won four prizes, in each case the ribbon winner being Keswick, a six-year-old gelding, that proved to be unusually clever over the jumps in the lightweight classes for qualified hunters.

In the roadster championships the Philadelphia, Storebury, won the title for horses in single harness with the mare Prefect while in pairs the plain field exhibited Miss Hanahan and Miss Westcott took the award.

National Guardsmen had an interest in the saddle class of the afternoon, for the purpose of four hours to hold the net riders to be in uniform and equipped with sabers. A. B. MacLay was the judge, in the absence of the usual army officer, and he put the field through a long course of sprouts. His idea of military strategy in devolutions for the cavalry seemed to be of a decidedly spotty nature, including bits of polo, hurdle racing, saber combats, and head cutting.

Three of the four hours to win were ridden by members of Squadron A, while Frederick William Wurster, Jr., of Squadron C, took the third ribbon.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt, with a bunch of red and white mutations in the lapel of his coat, wore the smile that won't come off when he received the blue ribbon in the class for park teams. Judge Moore, the winner of this class last year from Vanderbilt's noted four, was prevented from competing by the recent railroad accident at Hoozie Junction, in which the horses he would have relied upon were killed.

There was abundant reason for Vanderbilt's pleased, however, for his leaders were none too steadily in accord, and the Baltimore team of C. W. Watson, driven by C. A. Baudouine in fine style, had quite as much right on their looks and performance as the winners. Paul A. Sorg made his first appearance in the New York ring on a drag, and his black team went very well. He doubtless inadvertently cut off the Watson team twice at the corners, and by forcing Mr. Baudouine to pull up did not improve the chances of the Baltimore team. The only other entry was Otto H. Kahn's chestnut team that made a good showing and was placed over Mr. Sorg's blacks.

The Champion Prizes.

Champion prizes were awarded as follows:
Saddle horse, under 15.2—Brigand, owned by James G. Marshall, New York.
Saddle horse, over 15.2—Chance, owned by Miss Lida Tichenor, New York.
Pairs of harness horses, under 15.2—Fleur-de-lis and Barrette, owned by Lehman Strauss, New York.

National Horse Show Gold Challenge Cup, for best pair suitable for phaeton—Laughing Water and Chieftain, owned by J. W. Harriman.
Following are the afternoon awards:
Ladies prize for teams, four-in-hand—Ladies, Rustling Silk, Gibson Girl, and Sweet Marie, owned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt, New York.

Pairs of heavy harness horses, not under 15 hands—Barrington and Civina, owned by Reginald Vanderbilt, New York.
Ponies in harness, driven by children—Won by Berkeley Bantam, William H. Moore, New York.

Pairs of horses, mare or geldings, over 15.2—The Duke and Rustling Silk, owned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt.
Readers, preferred, owned by E. T. Stotesbury.
Readers, pairs of mares or geldings—Lord Baltimore, owned by C. W. Watson, Baltimore.

Horses suitable for cavalry service—Squadron A. N. G. N. Y.
Four-in-hand, park teams—The Duke, Rustling Silk, Sweet Marie, and the Major, owned by A. G. Vanderbilt.

CARUSO VOWS HE'S INNOCENT.

Swears by Sacred White Hairs of Father He Was Maligned.

New York, Nov. 24.—Caruso has cabled his father at Naples as follows: "I swear on your sacred white hairs that I am innocent."

Director Heinrich Corried of the Metropolitan Opera House prepared a round-robin to-day, which he has submitted to many of the women in the company for their signatures, testifying to the good character of Signor Enrico Caruso. He intends to submit to all of the leading women who will appear during the Metropolitan Opera House season, and to many who have appeared with Caruso in past seasons.

The round-robin will be used as evidence when Caruso's case comes up for a hearing on appeal, and it is said that Herr Corried will perhaps make the list public.

NEGRO ATTACKS HIS CHILD.

Possess of His Own Race Threatens
Him with Lynching.

Thomasville, Ga., Nov. 24.—Will Robinson, a negro, was arrested to-day by a posse of members of his own race to answer a charge of attacking his six-year-old daughter. But for cooler heads in the posse, Robinson would have met with summary punishment. Many of his pursuers were for hanging him at once, but others prevented carrying out this programme, and the negro was brought here and placed in jail.

ANTICIPATE GILLETTE'S CASE

Prosecution Exploit Various Lines of Possible Defense.Court Adjourns Until Monday, When
State Will Attempt to Show Girl
Was Murdered in Boat.

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 24.—The prosecution in the case of Chester Gillette, charged with the murder of Grace Brown, spent the session of the court to-day in gathering in the loose ends of its circumstantial evidence before sending the case to the medical experts who made the autopsy on the girl's body.

The prosecutor has drawn the net of circumstantial evidence close around the prisoner, but in order to hold the net together he must have the fact deduced from the testimony of experts that Grace Brown's body showed conclusively that she met her death in a way other than by drowning or suicide.

Five persons will be called to the stand on Monday in an attempt on the part of the prosecution to show that Grace Brown's death was the result of injuries received before she ever went under the water of Big Moose Lake, and that when she went into the lake she was either unconscious or was already dead.

The half-day session to-day was spent in an effort to point more strongly to some of the circumstances which the prosecution believe to be suspicious, and to forestall a possible contention of the defense that the bruises on Grace Brown's body were due to its being transported in a wagon over a rough road from the Glenmore Hotel to Big Moose Station. The prosecution has taken pains to pre-empt any line of defense which the prisoner's counsel may follow, and to show to-day that Gillette has already undergone an examination into his sanity, and it is said that no evidences of mental unsoundness were found.

BRIDE OF BOGUS PEER WEDS.

Former Wife of "Lord" Barrington Marries Lieut. Miller.

St. Louis, Nov. 24.—Miss Wilhelmina Grace Cochran was married this evening at Clayton to Lieut. Ellis B. Miller, of the Marine Corps, amidst blarney of the husband she divorced, "Lord" Seymour Barrington, under sentence of death in the Clayton Jail, for murdering James P. McCan.

In obtaining the license Miss Cochran passed within a few feet of the man who represented himself as a lord, courted her four days, won her love, and married her. After his divorce Barrington was kicked from her house, and later she obtained a divorce.

Her husband is a lieutenant, appointed to the Marine Corps from Iowa, and is in command of the St. Louis Recruiting Station and substitutes at Memphis, Tenn., and Kansas City.

MINISTER SHOTS FARMER.

Ordered Off Land While Hunting,
Pastor Wounds the Owner.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 24.—While walking through the field of Farmer E. L. Burke, Rev. J. J. Payseur, a prominent Baptist minister, formerly principal of the St. John's Baptist Institute, the leading school of Catawba County, was ordered from the field by Burke, and told that if he did not get off at once the farmer would use force.

Burke advanced on the minister to carry out his threat and Payseur emptied both barrels into his head.

Burke's face was literally torn to pieces by the bird shot, and it is stated by the physicians that he will lose both eyes. Payseur was arrested and will be tried on Monday morning.

A New Mill
Is being built to handle the large quantity of ore which the San Juan Baptista Mining Co. is producing. (See samples in Stott's window, under National Hotel.) For that purpose a few $10 shares will be sold for $3. After that, well, perhaps we'll not need any more money.

TILLMAN IS DEFIANT

Scorns Protection Against Negroes While in Chicago.

"STOP ME? STOP ROOSEVELT!"

Senator Declares He Is Not Afraid of Any Negro that Ever Lived.
Threats So Numerous He Pays No
Attention to Them—Will Discuss the Race Problem at Meeting.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—"In view of the present agitation, I will be forced to emphasize that portion of my address relating to the race problem."

In these words United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman to-day defied any suggestions that he eliminate from his address on the annexation of Cuba, to be delivered here next Tuesday evening, reference to the race problem. During his two hours' stay in Chicago, he also defied suggestions that he be furnished police escort on the day he delivers the address, and openly defied any attempt of violence threatened him when he delivers the lecture for the benefit of the Chicago Union Hospital.

When he was asked by Mrs. A. J. Keeler and a committee representing the hospital to expurgate his address so that there would be no objections to it by the negro population in Chicago, he declared the race problem was so knitted into the question of annexation of the Pearl of the Antilles that he could deliver no intelligent talk on the subject without giving his views on the disposition of the colored man. Senator Tillman quietly but firmly informed the committee that he was going to deliver his lecture as outlined.

Surprised at Attitude.

"I am surprised that the people of Chicago should be aroused by any threats of a negro uprising. It seems ridiculous that such a thing should be thought of, especially when the lecture is to be delivered for the benefit of a charity that has never closed its doors to any of that race," he said.

"My address is upon the annexation of Cuba. That will certainly bring the race problem into the limelight. It is more than absurd for negroes to think that they can stop a Senator of the United States from speaking. They might as well try to stop Roosevelt."

Not Afraid of Negroes.

When asked if he would want a police escort upon his arrival, he declared such a suggestion, and said:

"I am not afraid of any negro that ever lived. As to threats against my life, they have been made so repeatedly in the past on account of my position upon the race problem that I pay no more attention to them. They do not even assume the importance of an incident in my life."

The original address contracted for with Senator Tillman was his speech on the race problem, but in deference to the request of a number of the negroes in Chicago who have not figured in the public meetings protesting against the speech the Cuban subject was substituted. When the committee offered an escort during his stay in the city, he promptly declined, saying he would come and go as he pleased, the same as any other American citizen.

Senator Tillman went to South Haven, Mich., at noon, where he delivered an address to-night.

CORPORATIONS NEED CURBING.

Justice Gaylor Declares Favoritism in Freight Rates Must End.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 24.—Justice of the Supreme Court William Gaylor, who was the principal speaker at the Economic Club dinner, has created a sensation by declaring that the present system of punishing corporations, while letting their guilty officers escape, is stirring up class hatred.

"Favoritism in freight rates," said Justice Gaylor, "is the greatest crime of our day and generation. To allow one man or set of men to have their freight carried over the public highways at a rate so much lower than that which their rivals in business are charged as to enable them to undersell such rivals and even drive them out of business is so heartless and so damnable, that we shall look back upon by our children and by the future historian as a generation lost to moral sense for having suffered such a condition to exist so long."

ANOTHER BOMB SHAKES ROME.

Thrown Near St. Andrea Church, and City Is in Panic Over Outrage.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—A dispatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Company says a bomb was exploded at 4:20 this afternoon opposite the entrance to St. Andrea Delle Valle, one of the principal churches of the city. Nobody was in the church at the time.

The outrage has aroused great excitement and a state of panic prevails.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

A longer evening in New York. After November 25 the midnight sleeper from New York to Washington will leave 1:20 a. m. from foot of Liberty street, making it now possible for Washingtonians to attend theater or entertainment and have their entire evening in New York unbroken, with ample time to reach the train.

Hamilton, Ontario, Nov. 24.—Canadian infantry, with fixed bayonets, and cavalry, with drawn sabers, charged the mob of striking street car men at 10 o'clock to-night.

The immense crowd, which had dynamited property all day in defiance of the entire police force, fell back in panic before the line of steel.

Over 100 in Hospital.

In the confusion that followed it was impossible to learn the number of casualties. So far over 100 persons have been admitted to the hospitals for treatment. Only one fatality is reported, that of a man hit by a flying brick from the street car
